

Working Wardrobe

The Working Wardrobe

The Working Wardrobe is a small family-run business in East Ayrshire. After initially specialising in school uniforms, the past ten years has seen the company increasingly focus on branded workwear and custom embroidery.

They employ five local people at their factory in Kilmaurs and use top of the range computerised embroidery machines.

In early 2021, Vattenfall approached the Working Wardrobe to supply branded beanies for our colleagues working on South Kyle Wind Farm. As business owner Una Fairley commented, The Working Wardrobe were “over the moon” to receive this large order:

“We are a small local business and its mostly small customers that we deal with, so when we get a big order like this it takes a bit longer to get through which means that the girls basically can get stuck in and get on with it! But long term hopefully it will create new jobs - and new jobs create more new jobs and more business.”

Delighted with the quality of both the products and the speedy service from The Working Wardrobe, Vattenfall’s South Kyle team have since ordered further branded polo shirts.

Meanwhile, the cosy, smart South Kyle Wind Farm beanies have been a hit both on site and off, with more requests coming in from Vattenfall’s operations across the UK keen to get one of our limited edition beanies!

For more information visit www.theworkingwardrobe.co.uk

Sign Up for Supply Chain Updates

There are companies of all sizes and backgrounds working and thriving in the wind industry. If you would like to be considered as a supplier please email

southkyle.windfarm@vattenfall.com

Tell us your ideas!

If you know a local company who could supply us or have an idea for how we might create additional opportunities and benefits for the region please get in touch by emailing us at:

southkyle.windfarm@vattenfall.com